P. O. Box 3176,
Nov. 16, 1959.

Dear Mrs. Cook:

As a good citizen and as a taxpayer in Carmel, I wish to retract the statement which you published in your paper on my behalf, quote "The promised expose of the Youth Center at the Carmel Unified School District meeting Monday night consisted in a complaint by one individual that the older members of the center are allowed to smoke and that there is too wide a spread in age, 13-21."

My purpose in "speaking up" was not meant as a complaint. I have never met or spoken to Mr. Norberg, so I could not be included in the "many people" angle in connection with Mr. Norberg's statement in reference to the Youth Center.

I spoke only as an individual and an interested parent. My son likes and attends the Carmel Youth Center. I encouraged my son to join the Youth Center as soon as he reached his 13th Birthday, because I felt it would be good for him to have an outside interest, to be amongst young people, besides that of his school.

However, at that time, there were good parents who told me that they would not allow their sons or daughters to attend the Youth Center on account of inadequate supervision. But I disregarded their feelings and allowed my son to join.

It has only been recently, during the past summer, in fact, that I have questioned the Youth Center, and this, by telephone, and to my surprise, I learned from the Youth Center Director that the members are allowed to smoke in the center, and that the boys who are 14 years old could smoke if the parents did not object. Naturally, I asked if my son smoked there and he said he did, so I told the Youth Director that I did not approve of it.

To clarify what I said at the School Board meeting was, "I do not approve of smoking at the Youth Center for anyone." If the younger ones are in the atmosphere where older ones smoke, there is a temptation for them to smoke also. Is it not true that Doctors are finding that smoking is injurious to health, especially for the young people who have not acquired their growth?"

Also, I believe that the age bracket should be changed. Perhaps from 15 to 21 years or from 13 to 18 years; if the law or custom is to the effect that minors are not allowed to smoke, why not make it a rule at the Youth Center, especially if the ages could be changed from 13 to 18 years; it seems to me that a boy or girl is not too old to start smoking at the age of 18. What do you think?

I am only trying to suggest something constructive, and it is certainly not meant to be a "complaint."

Sincerely,
Mrs. S. Ransome.

What do I think? I hate to see youngsters smoke, even at 18, and I don't like to see them smoking at the Youth Center. When I was a kid, the children were more considerate of their elders. They went out behind the barn or into the

The above photo of the late Elizabeth Niles, taken for the Pine Cone by Camera Craft, was published in February 24, 1955 issue of the Pine Cone, along with an interview with her and the announcement of a reception to be held for her at the Library on the following Sunday afternoon to honor her on her retirement on March 1.

Your editor, along with most of the reading public of the period, fought with "Lizzy" Niles on Monday, when she would say, "No, that is a book that wouldn't be interesting to enough persons to justify spending city tax payers' money to buy it," and loved her on Tuesday, two weeks later, when a post card arrived in the mail saying the book was at the desk and being held for the petitioner. The book might have been obtained on loan from the county or state library, or as last resort it might have been purchased with city taxpayers' money.

She "shushed" the kids in the children's reading room, and cheered them when she stopped on her way home from work to watch them play baseball on the Sunset Field.

After her retirement she still paused to watch the youngsters playing on Sunset Field on her way to Carmel Foundation's Town House, which then loomed large in her life, especially the meetings of the Booklovers' Club.

When we learned yesterday that Miss Niles had left her home to Carmel Foundation and her books to the children, we were glad for her. Her will, drawn up two months after her retirement, must have given her pleasure in the knowledge that the children, and Carmel Foundation, both dear to her heart, would benefit when she died.

But it's hard that she went the way she did. Nobody can be sure, but knowing her as neighbor and friend, we are confident that a dropped cigarette caused the fire that resulted in her death. She smoked openly after her retirement, something she would not do, with her old fashioned standards of propriety, in her role of Carmel Librarian.

Frail, fussy, exasperating, lovable Elizabeth Niles, part of Carmel as we first knew it, gone like Fred Bechdolt, beloved "Bech;" Sadie Van Brower, thorny, fighting Sadie, beloved; Clara Kellogg, wise, dominant, respected; individuals all of them. Persons who made Carmel what it was. —W.C.

Elizabeth Niles Wills Property To Town House

City Attorney John Morse will file the will of the late Elizabeth Niles for probate Monday. The retired Carmel librarian left her home on Torres and Eighth Streets to The Carmel Foundation (Town House); her books to Carmel Unified School District.

She died early yesterday morning from shock and burns.

At 1:59 o'clock Wednesday morning a telephone operator reported to the Carmel Fire Department that she had received an unidentified call from someone who said "Niles" and then hung up.

Roy Walls, fireman on duty, gave Fire Chief Robert Smith the location of Miss Niles' home and called the Carmel Police Department on the intercom system.

Chief Smith, Police Lieutenant Earll Wermuth and Officer Verdie Herdine arrived at Miss Niles' house simultaneously. They entered her bedroom, found her burned and unclothed body on the floor and burning bedding on the mattress of her bed. She was dead when they arrived. Chief Smith called for a fire truck, took the mattress and bedding into the yard and extinguished the fire with a garden hose.

County Coroner Christopher Hill Jr., was notified immediately and came to the scene at once. Later he stated that Miss Niles had died of severe burns and shock.

Mrs. Josephine Root, who lived with Miss Niles, said she had smelled smoke five minutes before police and the fire chief arrived. Mrs. Elenor Montross White, a neighbor, was present also when the fire chief and police officers arrived.

Cause of the fire is undetermined, according to Chief Smith. He stated that remnants of Miss Niles' clothing were found about the room. Whether she had taken off her burning clothing or it had fallen from her burned body he was unable to say. The State Fire Marshal will make a report on the accident, Chief Smith says.

On March 1, 1955, Miss Niles retired from her duties at the Ralph Harrison Memorial Library, where she had served as head librarian for 25 years. She made her

Those Who Saw Dog Struck By Car Asked To Phone Owner

Brutus, six-months-old Basset hound pup, victim of a hit-run accident at the intersection of Highway 1 and Ocean Avenue a week ago, is back at home with his owner, Mrs. Lise Tescher.

"He's stiff in all his joints like an old dog, but alive," says Mrs. Tescher, mother of Susan, Chris and Skip, who were upset about the injuries suffered by their pet.

Mrs. Tescher is endeavoring to gain any information about the car and the driver which hurt Brutus and drove away without stopping.

According to Mrs. James Kelsey, who witnessed the accident, a hitchiker was walking south on the highway. The puppy, in the roadway, appeared to be following the man. Two boys, seeing the dog's dangerous predicament tried to call Brutus to the side of the road when the stop light changed. Brutus stood still in the traffic lane. Just then a car, coming fast, says Mrs. Kelsey, hit the dog and

Planners Set Rezoning Hearings; Question Purchase of Additional Lots For Junipero Civic Center

The planning commission set December 2, 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon in city hall, for public hearings on re-zoning of residential property at Sixth and Monte Verde Streets to a parking lot for Pine Inn at the request of the property owner, Kathleen Prewitt. Consent of 85 percent of property owners in the zone of interest of the rezoning accompanied the request.

At the same time the commission will also hold a public hearing on rezoning of municipally-owned lands into three categories of a new park (P) zone.

The categories are: P-1, parks and beaches left as natural areas; P-2, park and recreation areas with improvements; P-3, landscaped off-street parking parks. The P-zone to be incorporated in a new zoning ordinance for Carmel.

A public hearing to extend the interim zoning ordinance for six months will also be held on December 2 at 4:00 o'clock.

Planning commissioners were concerned yesterday afternoon with the economic and practical feasibility of purchasing the three-lot White property on Torres Street for a city corporation yard.

The three lots, offered to the city for $75,000, would be added to present city-owned property along Third Avenue, between Junipero and Torres Streets, and used for a civic center proposed by August Nieto in plans drawn by architect George Willox.

These plans were studied by planning commissioners yesterday afternoon. Commissioner Herbert Blanks questioned the purchase of the White lots on the grounds of practicality of use for a corporation yard independent of the entire civic center development.

Chairman George Willox was of the opinion that the lots would not be useful unless the whole civic center were constructed. City Clerk Larry Rose stated that the present two-lot corporation yard at Mission and Eighth was inadequate. The addition of another lot at the Torres Street proposed location would not improve matters as there still would be insufficient area on three lots alone for materials storage, shops and sheds.

Price of the three White lots also bothered planning commissioners. They wondered what price

PADRES CLIP PACIFIC GROVE FOR UNDEFEATED SEASON

Final CCAL B-Division Standings

Carmel	6	0
Hollister	5	1
Gilroy	4	2
Pacific Grove	3	3
King City	2	4
Gonzales	1	5
San Lorenzo	0	6

Carmel High wrapped up its third straight CCAL B-division football title at Pacific Grove last Friday night as the Red & Gray gridders blanked the Breakers, 13 to 0, in a tough defensive battle. The win over Pacific Grove runs the Padres undefeated skein to 26 games and allows the "Shoe" to rest in the Padre trophy case for another year.

Hollister High gained undisputed possession of second place in the B-division chase by edging Gilroy, 7 to 6, at the Haybaler stadium. Coach Ernie Piper's King City Mustangs powered over the Gonzales Spartans, 25 to 6, to win the big one in the valley. Live Oak won its first football game in CCAL competition by upsetting San Lorenzo, 7 to 0, at the Santa Cruz Harvey West Stadium.

The Padres did an uninspired but methodical job on Pacific Grove, powering to a touchdown in the second quarter and getting the clincher in the third period. Mike Draper's slashing runs off the Breaker tackles brought big chunks of yardage and provided the two touchdowns. Doyle Clayton, after missing the first conversion kick, was on target on the second chance to finish the season with 22 successful conversions in 33 chances.

Pacific Grove's spirited defense plus flying penalty markers stymied Carmel's offense for a great part of the game and it took a fine defensive effort by the Padres to keep the Breakers off the scoreboard. Led by Captain Harrison Hilbert, the best center in the CCAL A or B league, Carmel's defensive crew forced the Breakers to go overhead for their yardage and the alert secondary of Darrell Clark, Bill Coleman, Russ Wise, Fred Bucher, Paul Rice, and Frank Mayo knocked down most of the passes. Alert ball-hawking by guard Doug McClurg produced two fumble recoveries and a pass interception for the chunky senior. Rugged tackle play by John Wilkin and Tim Mitchell throttled the tricky Breaker reverses which had been so effective against other CCAL opponents.

Powerful blocking by Chris Wilkin, Dave Hansen, and Toby Edson opened gaping holes in the left side of the Breaker line and provided plenty of running room for halfback Mike Draper. Julio Montenegro, stubby senior halfback from Venezuela, picked up Carmel's longest run when he scooted 46 yards on a slant off tackle.

Carmel's junior-varsity crew, shocked by a 65-yard touchdown sprint on Pacific Grove's first play from scrimmage, came back with a fine second half effort to overpower the hard-trying Wavelets, 27 to 13. Swift halfback Richard Davis was the running star of the game, streaking for touchdown runs of 65 and 56 yards to provide all the Pacific Grove points. For the Little Padres it was the accurate passing of Frank Bucher and the knifing runs of Rick Baldwin, Lee Oleson, and Danny Moore which unhinged the Wavelet defense.

In a Saturday morning "before-breakfast-special," the Pacific Grove and Carmel midgets tangled at Bardarson Field with the Padre Peewees getting the best of the tussle, 27 to 6. Dan Silveria tallied twice for Coach Hadley Hick's charges while John Soprano and Gary Mumford picked up a touchdown apiece. The win over Pacific Grove gives the Carmel midgets a 4-1 record for the season and the game experience will give the freshman-laden squad a running start when it moves up to junior-varsity action next season.

CLEAT MARKS

Coach George Porter's rampaging Monterey Peninsula College gridders ran roughshod over the Menlo Oaks last Saturday afternoon to earn a tie for the top spot in the Coast Junior College circuit. Vallejo JC did the Lobos and Hartnell a big favor by upsetting San Jose City College Friday night. With San Jose, Hartnell, and the Lobos locked up in a battle for first place, this Saturday night's games take on added importance in the junior college set. MPC hosts arch-rival Hartnell in an 8:00 o'clock joust at the MPC Stadium with the winner assured at least a tie for the league crown. San Jose and Foothill JC tangle at San Jose with the Jaguars favored to clobber Coach Bill Abbey's Owls. The Hartnell-MPC clash shapes up as an offense-defense battle with the Lobos carrying the big offensive guns and the Panthers sporting a hard-nosed defensive unit. San Jose City College is the only league opponent to score on Hartnell this season but Coach Ken Blue's stoppers will get a severe test when they face the explosive Lobo offense... Salinas High could wrap up the CCAL A-division title with a win over Monterey High at the MPC Stadium tomorrow night. If the Toreadores happen to upset the Cowboys, Santa Cruz could get a share of the title by beating Watsonville in the other A-division league game. Monterey, picked by the experts to cop the league crown this season, hit a slump after a fast start and dropped decisions to Santa Cruz and Watsonville in league play. The Salinas Cowboys boast a one-two scoring punch in quarterback Don Hunt and fullback Larry James. These two lads are definite All-Northern California prospects and will be heard from in college ball... Coast Counties Athletic League coaches and sportswriters will gather at the Pub Restaurant in Salinas next Monday night to select the All-League teams for the 1959 season. In the B-division, the pickers will select a backfield from such good ball-carriers as Hollister's Ted Schmidt, Don Carrasco, and Jim Stevens; Pacific Grove's Bob Bommarito and Mike Logan; Don Guzman of Gonzales; Gilroy's Mike Elder and Tom Pacheco; and Carmel's quartet of Mike Draper, Frank Mayo, Dave Hansen, and Ron Faia. Top linemen up for consideration are Hollister's John Cueba and Jim Milferd; Gilroy's Paul Latzke and Ron Harrison; King City's Ron Giacamozzi; Pacific Grove's David Clark, Archie Stewart, and Bucky Boyns; Gonzales' Joe Johnson and Mike Burns; and Carmel's Harrison Hilbert, Toby Edson, Tim Mitchell, Doug McClurg, and John Wilkin.

John Morton

John P. Morton died on November 13 in a local rest home following a long period of failing health. He had lived in Carmel for the past 16 years. His home was at Mountain View Street and Eighth Avenue.

Mr. Morton was born in Astoria, Long Island, New York, on August 17, 1877. His marriage to Marie D. Meyer took place in Chicago, Illinois, on November 27, 1900. Before retiring and coming to Carmel, he lived in Lombard, Illinois, and for 50 years was a dispatcher for the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railroad Company.

Mr. Morton was a member for over 50 years of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railroad Employes of America.

He is survived by his wife, Marie, two daughters, Mrs. John H. Miller of Carmel and Mrs. Jack Glazier of Seaside; five grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Saturday morning in the Paul Funeral Chapel with the Reverend E. Cunningham of the Church of the Oaks in Del Rey Oaks officiating. Burial was in Mission Memorial Park.

Henry Vandercook Drowned When Jeep Flips Into River

Henry Russell Vandercook of Rancho Chupinos died on Saturday evening following an accident on the Carmel Valley road. His body was discovered on Monday afternoon pinned beneath a jeep in the Carmel River almost three miles above the Valley Center.

According to County Coroner Christopher Hill Jr., death was caused by drowning. Mr. Vandercook also had a crushed chest. Apparently his jeep failed to negotiate a curve on the Valley Road and plunged 40 feet into the river.

Mr. Vandercook was born in Cottonwood, Tennessee, on July 15, 1899. He was a World War II veteran. For the past two years he had been employed as a ranch hand at Rancho Chupinos.

The only known survivor is a sister living in Tennessee.

Funeral services will be in Nashville, Tennessee.

Louise Hasty

Mrs. Louise Johnston Hasty, a resident of Carmel for many years, died on Monday in a Salinas sanatorium after a long illness.

Mrs. Hasty was born in Spring Valley, New York, on August 6, 1875. She was the widow of Jerome Allen Hasty of Milwaukee who died in 1918.

Following her husband's death, Mrs. Hasty brought her four children to California and settled in Atascadero. Later she moved to Carmel where her aunts, Ida Johnston and Josephine Culbertson, were pioneer settlers.

During her years of residence here, Mrs. Hasty made many friends and is remembered for her kindly interest, not only in the lives of her contemporaries but also in those of her children's and grandchildren's friends. She was a member of an old New York State family and told many interesting stories about her early life in the East.

Previous to her last illness she was a member of the Carmel Foundation.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Harriette Hasty Rowntree and Miss Hope Hasty, both of Berkeley; two sons, Henry Haight Hasty of Santa Cruz and Jerome Allen Hasty of Arizona; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mrs. Hasty were held on Tuesday.

Friends wishing to honor her memory are requested to do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Tuberculosis and Health Association, Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Salinas.

Mrs. Robinson

Mrs. Olive Lisle Robinson of Sunridge Road, Pebble Beach, died on Saturday morning in a local hospital following a period of failing health. She came from Aspen, Colorado, to make her home here ten years ago.

Mrs. Robinson was born in Leadville, Colorado, on October 21, 1884.

She is survived by her husband, Thomas E. Robinson of Pebble Beach; a daughter, Mrs. W. E. Sweetland of Eugene, Oregon; three brothers, J. R. Tagert of Meeker, Colorado, W. C. Tagert of Eugene, Oregon, and F. T. Tagert of Palm Springs, and a sister, Mrs. Mabel Lupold of Los Angeles.

Private funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Those wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. Robinson are requested to do so in the form of donations to favorite charities.

continued down the highway without stopping.

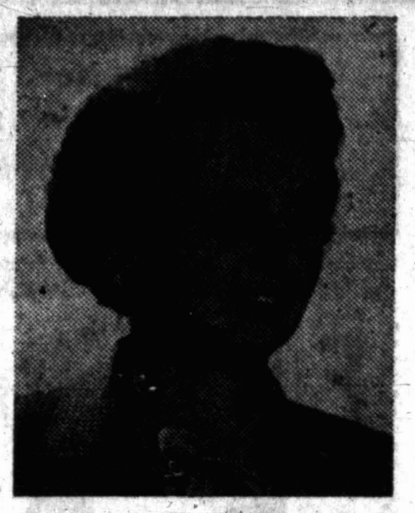
Mrs. Kelsey saw Brutus was injured, got out of her car and recognized the puppy was 11-year-old Susie Tescher's pet. She thought Brutus was dead. Upset, she went home and told her husband, Jim Kelsey, about the incident. Jim immediately got in his car, picked up Brutus and took him to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Vetter, Susie Tescher's grandparents, who live nearby on Flanders Drive and are neighbors of the Kelseys.

Mr. Vetter took Brutus to a local pet hospital. Brutus had a brain concussion and all his limbs were pulled out of their sockets. Fortunately, no bones were broken.

As the accident was reconstructed, says Mrs. Tescher, Brutus had been caught by the car's transmission case and rolled under the car. He was covered with grease, and unconscious.

The veterinarian, Mrs. Tescher reports, kept Brutus under sedation after the pup became conscious to spare the animal pain. He also took Brutus home with him the first night to keep the dog under constant surveillance.

Mrs. Tescher has been told that high school students waiting at the stop light, witnessed the accident and screamed when it occurred, and that a carful of girl students who stopped to avoid hitting Brutus also saw him hit. She is requesting anyone who witnessed the accident to telephone, MAyfair 4-2081 in an endeavor to discover the identity of the hit-run driver.



The Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will present Laurel Reynolds Tuesday evening, 8:00 o'clock, at Sunset Auditorium. In a field dominated by men, Laurel Reynolds was the first woman to take, edit and present nationally wildlife films. In her refreshing style she has given Audubon Screen Tours throughout North America.

A resident of Piedmont and educated at the University of California, she and her physician husband, T. Eric Reynolds, are devoted to the cause of conservation and have been recipients of the California Conservation Council Award. An ornithological authority, Dr. Reynolds has shared his interest in natural science with Mrs. Reynolds to such an extent that a wildlife hobby has become for her a photographic career.

Mindy Willis of Pasadena, wife of Cornelius Grinnell Willis, geologist and mining engineer, although not appearing on the lecture platform with Laurel Reynolds, is co-author of The New World Rediscovered. Her contacts with nature developed at an early age through pack trips into the high sierra with Theodore J. Hoover, author-naturalist.

By chartered boat to Alaska, by air to the Caribbean and by yacht to Lower California and Mexico the Willises and Reynolds went in pursuit of wildlife experiences that Mrs. Reynolds now shares with the American public in her film-lectures.

Carmel School Dist. Personnel Assist In Evaluating Texts

Five Carmel school personnel recently took part in evaluating reading textbooks, grades one through eight, for the next California state adoption.

A report of the recommendations of a county-wide committee in the form of order of preference of the series of basic and supplementary readers will be forwarded to the State Curriculum Commission by the committee chairman Dr. Don Lumpkin, reading consultant in the office of the Monterey County Superintendent of Schools.

Carmel teachers who took part in the evaluation were Miss Eleanor Crouch, district curriculum coordinator; Mrs. Bette Mackey, grade 8, Tularcitos School; Mrs. Beatrice Picard, grade 8; Mrs. Sarah Sproull, grade 7; and Mrs. Thelma Stohr, grade 7, Sunset School.

The screening program, which has been going on for several weeks, involved handling more than 2,600 books by members of the committee. Some 22 publishing companies presented texts for possible adoption by the state.

Similar committees have been at work on the evaluation throughout California.

The State Board of Education will adopt a new series of texts in March, and the readers will be available for use in the schools by the fall of 1961.

Superb Iglesias Ballet Program Shows Need Of Peninsula Auditorium

By David Eldridge

Rarely does one have the opportunity to see such superb dancing combined with a sense of showmanship and virtuosity as was displayed by the Roberto Iglesias Ballet Espanol in Sunset Auditorium on November 11. The audience realized this and their enthusiastic response to the stirring program was evidence of their enjoyment and appreciation.

Roberto Iglesias is a dancer of magnificent technique, magnetic warmth, a brilliant showman, and a supberb exponent of Flamenco as well as other types of Spanish dancing. His company was excellent, and the program was unusual for a group of Spanish dancers; but if one noted the company was billed as "Ballet Espanol," one realized that it was much more than the clicking of castanets and heels. There was a careful building of the program which was varied and brilliant, done with authority and showmanship, and it showed deep study of the theatre as well as the dance. The only criticism I feel is that the ensemble work was ragged in spots, showing need of more concentrated work to produce exactitude and precision when the group was working together. However, some of this may have been due to the physical limitations of the stage, which was apparent at times.

The choreography is brilliantly conceived and executed, and Mr. Iglesias does not hesitate to depart from the dogmatic original Spanish steps. This makes his program have a vitality and freshness that is notably lacking in other Spanish dance groups. The lithe and agile grace not only of Iglesias himself but of the whole company is a delight to watch, and the tremendous speed and magnetism of Iglesias is compelling, holding the audience so as not to miss one beat, one flashing step, one lithe movement of the graceful dancer. His group is truly great, and I feel there is no finer dancer than Roberto Iglesias in this particular field of choreographic art today.

Aria Mercedes, guest artist, is the finest artist in the use of castanets that I have ever seen and that includes, in my estimation, the great Argentina whom I had the privilege of seeing a number of times. Mercedes' number, Leyenda, displayed her artistry in the use of this so definitely Spanish adjunct to the dance. From a faint breath of sound to a fury of rhythmic beat, she made the castanets "talk" as they are supposed to in true Spanish dancing, weaving their accompaniment into an integral part of the moody pattern of the fluid grace of the choreography.

Soledad Montoya danced by Iglesias and Rosario Galan again gave us wonderful work with castanets—this time by Miss Galan, and the verse of Garcia Lorca combined the singing of the poems to guitars while the two artists' brilliant pantomime and dancing brought to life the gypsy story. Again in Punteado de la Vendimia these same two artists held the audience spellbound with their demonstration of heelwork. Rapt and utter silence was the response so as not to miss one beat of the superb brilliance of this most difficult style of Spanish dancing, and the thunderous applause showed the appreciation of the number. Roberto Iglesias in this and in his solo number, Gaditanas, showed consummate command of the technique of the heelwork and Flamenco steps. His contrasting El Palomo y la Paloma was a delightful bit of buffoonery in dance form which again showed the years of training and study which goes into the making of a fine dancer. Before an audience the dance appears as easy to execute as drawing your breath but to the discerning eye it is a pattern of great difficulty and intricate combination of rhythm, timing, technique, training and artistry.

The ensemble numbers were danced with fire and the sure touch of each and every dancer

Willox Named To State Advisory Planning Committee

Carmel Planning Commission Chairman George L. Willox was sworn in as a member of the State Planning Advisory Committee on Monday morning by City Clerk Larry Rose. He was nominated to the position by Senator Fred S. Farr and appointed by Governor Edmund G. Brown.

Mr. Willox is one of four members added to the seven-member state committee as authorized by the 1959 Legislature. Senator Farr helped sponsor the bill which added the new members and also established the State Planning Office of the Department of Finance.

Duties of the committee are the formation of a master plan for the State of California; to advise and coordinate public works projects; give local planning assistance; and collect and disseminate planning information. Kenneth C. May of Bakersfield is chairman of the State Planning Advisory Committee. Eldon Andrews is director of the State Planning Office.

George Willox has been a member of the Carmel Planning Commission since 1954 and chairman since 1956. He also is a member of the Monterey Peninsula Area Planning Commission. A graduate of the University of Michigan in architecture, he has practiced his profession on the Peninsula for the past nine years.

Mr. Willox, at the request of August Nieto, drew the plans for a proposed Carmel Civic Center, now being studied by the planning commission at the request of the city council.

Public Invited To Two Recitals By Boyer Students

The public is invited to attend two piano recitals by students of the Carmel Studios of Music directed by Gilbert Boyer. One is on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in Fellowship Hall, Church of the Wayfarer; the other on Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Del Carlo of Carmel.

Teachers on the staff of the Studios whose students will be playing are Mrs. Margaret Aitkenhead, Miss Kathleen Asplin, Gilbert Boyer, Philippe Buhler, Mrs. Mary Dobel, Mrs. Edna Marie Natkin, Les Rhinehart and Mrs. Eiko Yoshizato.

The Friday evening recital will present advanced students. Performing on the program will be Mrs. Katherine Erickson in the Mendelssohn Rondo Capriciosco; Mrs. Elisabeth Orr Kanevski in the first movement of the MacDowell Sonata Eroica; Mrs. Helen Moran the Debussy Doll's Serenade; Ann Del Carlo, the Chopin Nocturne in F Major and Scherzo of Rachmaninoff; Herbert Myers, the Sunken Cathedral and Alternating Thirds of Debussy; and Carole Crumpley, the Scarlatti Sonata in D minor and Chopin Scherzo, Op. 54.

Playing at the Sunday afternoon recital will be Catherine and Susan Sparolini, Jessica Gressett, Judy Stotler, Linda Ferris, Jamie Hatlo, Anne Hagemeyer, Carole Crumpley, Ann Del Carlo, and Herbert Myers. Anyone interested in attending the Sunday afternoon recital may telephone MA 4-3347.

Music On The Peninsula

By Mary Lindsay-Oliver

The Peninsula Concert Trio in a chamber music program at the Woman's Club, Sunday, proved this local organization of excellent artists to be one to hold its own anywhere as a first-rate ensemble. Formed some months ago by Elizabeth du Val, violinist, Louise Friedhofer-Vadetsky, cellist, and Camille Olaeta, pianist, they have already built up performance of a high standard with the possibility of making a name farther afield like the now famous Paganini Quartet which at one time had headquarters in Carmel Highlands. One hopes financial support will be forthcoming to help them do this, for such progress always takes money, alas!

Performing under auspices of The Monterey Peninsula Arts and Humanities Council, the Trio received good attendance of representative concertgoers and the council is to be commended for assisting to project local worthwhile artists, a service that it is hoped will continue for the Peninsula. Stanley Cummings was manager, assisted by Ronnie Cummings.

Mozart, Mendelssohn and Beethoven Piano Trios in C major, D minor and D major comprised the program. It was a joy to listen to the melodious grace of the Mozart themes that express so much naturally, played with sensitive phrasing and nuance. and it was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The controversial Mendelssohn's Trio was well chosen as one of his best works. Opening with a strong theme by the cello, its progress through the Allegro agitato followed by the Andante's sympathetic melodies, climbed to a brilliant scherzo and finale. This was enthusiasticallly applauded, and the Trio's achievement culminated in a scholarly and distinguished performance of the Beethoven Trio that won them recalls and bouquets for each.

Frederick Preston Search, who died suddenly at his Upper Carmel Valley ranch last week, had, with his father, Professor Search, a nationally noted educator, author and traveller, lived in Carmel itself formerly. As a noted performer, he gave up cello playing for composition and conducting, which he studied under Nikisch, was composer and conductor of The Festival Overture at the San Francisco Exposition, and his compositions have been heard in many musical centers. When I lived in New York he requested my written reference for the Guggenheim Foundation. He was in close touch with the bandmaster father of Earl Murray, so knew our conductor as a boy, and we hope some "memorial" reference can be made to him at the next concert as a past local musician of note, and as one of his compositions was "read" at last week's rehearsal.

The local composition chosen by the selection committee for performance in the December concert is a Symphonic Essay by Philip H. Buhler who has been living in Pacific Grove about three years. It is rather a questionable method as to whether scrappy "readings" of several compositions in one short rehearsal can faithfully determine their value? Deals everywhere for the work of composers who are the first and only reason for performers, are still almost a closed shop, and Murray is doing what he can to help, which we certainly applaud.

Public Invited To Capella Di Musica Free Concert Friday

The Monterey Peninsula College Concert series will open with the Capella di Musica tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Student Union. Robert Tefft, horn player, was the initiator of the group.

Searching through music libraries for chamber music for his instrument and various chamber groups, he discovered at San Francisco State College a group of talented musicians. The four are James Matheson, oboe; Willard Tressel, violin; Elizabeth Bell, viola; and Jeffrey Holm, cello. Mrs. Patricia Mackenzie, music librarian at San Francisco State College, is concert manager. They formed the group to play the best in chamber music, and do not wish to be known as specialists in the music of any one period.

In the repertoire of the group are compositions by Kaminski, Mozart, Von Weber, Kodaly, and Purcell. The concert will be open to the public of the Monterey Peninsula without charge.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Now is the time for someone to think of a new old saying about how you can live without cranberries, but you cannot, cannot live without books.

We shall try to have good books on the political candidates for next year and the first of these is entitled Candidates, 1960. Eric Severeid edited the book; the articles were written by other people. Seven possible candidates are discussed in the book and there is a final chapter on dark horses which should just about cover all the other hopefuls. Mr. Severeid says that there are both men and boys in politics today and it is imperative that we elect one of the men.

Spaceport, U.S.A. is Cape Canaveral, Florida, and it is also the title of a new book by Martin Caidin, who is a former Consultant to the Commander of the Air Force Missile Test Center. Martin Caidin has been in this thing for a long time and because of this he is well qualified to write the story of the work at Canaveral. The book is illustrated with many exciting photographs. This is the story of the successful missiles and the unsuccessful ones. A most important subject and a most interesting book.

Groucho and Me, the autobiography of Groucho Marx is both crazy and informative. The pictures are especially noteworthy to this librarian, being the first time she heard of the existence of a Marx brother named Gummo . . . there were five of them, not four. After all of you get through reading this book, I'm going to read it. Don't hurry, I can wait.

It's never too early to start figuring how you are going to pay for your children's college education. William Craig says you should start soon after the child's birth. He wrote a small paper bound book called How to Finance a College Education. One hundred and fifty years ago a student could attend Princeton for $171.23, and part of that amount went for servant's wages and firewood. Attending a public college today entails an expenditure of about $1,500 a year and for a privately supported school you should plan to add another thousand dollars to that amount. Add to this the amount necessarily spent for clothing and transportation and you get some idea of what you are planning for each of your children who is to attend college. Read this book and learn.

Charles Goren has another book on bridge published recently, this one entitled New Contract Bridge in a Nutshell. It is a revised edition of a book which first appeared in 1946. It has a nice index and is supposed to be the sort of book you keep at hand as you are playing so that you can prove to your partner just where he overbid his hand and such.

Did you notice that the new idea of a civic center for Carmel included the good idea of a branch library for children and young people? Golly!!!

Kyrre Eide

Kyrre Eide, former instructor in Norwegian at the Army Language School, died on Monday morning in a local hospital. The previous evening, apparently he had suffered a heart attack in his home at Ocean Avenue and Santa Fe Street and was taken to the hospital in the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Fire Department.

Mr. Eide was born in Grinstad, Norway, on June 10, 1889. He was educated in Norway, then emigrated to the United States in 1928. For the next 20 years he was a chemist in New York City. In 1948 Mr. Eide came to live in Carmel when he accepted a position as instructor at the Army Language School. After the Norwegian department was discontinued four years ago he devoted his time to painting.

He was a member of the American Association of University Professors, The National Federation of National Employees and the Padre Trails Camera Club.

Survivors are his wife, Dagny, and a daughter, Gudny, both of Carmel; and two sisters and a brother living in Norway.

Pastor James Spaid of the United Lutheran Church of the Monterey Peninsula officiated at funeral services yesterday afternoon. Burial was in El Carmelo Cemetery, Pacific Grove.

Manuel's New Mexican Venture

During past weeks Carmel friends of Manuel and Felicitas Valenzuela of Guanajato, Mexico, have enjoyed seeing them here again after an absence of some years.

Manuel was the manager of the Carmel branch of Gump's when the firm had a shop on Dolores Street. Now he and Felicitas are proprietors of a small family hotel in Guanajato, frequently visited by Carmel travellers in Mexico.

Manuel is busy with plans for a resort he will open in Baja California at Mulege, south of Santa Rosalia, on the Gulf of California side of the peninsula opposite Guaymas. The location of Manuel's new venture is in tropical country on a 20-mile inlet enclosed by high mountains.

Already, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Colman, with whom the Valenzuelas stayed in Carmel, are making plans for a trip to Mulege, and Mr. Colman is eagerly anticipating the splendid fishing in the vicinity of the proposed resort.

Robin Harris First Child

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Cleveland Harris are parents for the first time. Their daughter, Robin Renne, weighed nine pounds, seven ounces when she was born at Monterey Hospital on November 5. Her father is an employee of the Monterey County Road Department. He and Mrs. Harris have lived in Carmel Valley since last March.

Robin's grandparents are Mrs. Pearl Harris of Wellsville, Missouri, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Carlson of Oak Creek, Colorado. Mrs. Carlson has been staying with her son-in-law and daughter since October and will remain here two more weeks before returning to her home.

Carmelite In New Yorker

The late John Douglas Short of Carmel and his work while a parole officer at San Quentin prison are described in this week's issue of The New Yorker magazine. Mr. Short was the father of Mrs. Neil Weston of Carmel Highlands and John Short, English instructor at Robert Louis Stevenson School.

The story tells about an art show of prisoners' work at San Quentin put on by The Seekers, an inmate group organized by Mr. Short. It also gives a description of his appearance and a picture of his personality.

Eric Scarletts Are Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Scarlett have a daughter, Teri Elaine, who was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on November 8 with a birth weight of eight pounds, five ounces. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Trueman Scarlett of Carmel Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gruenwald of Seaside.

Teri's father is associated with his father's plumbing firm in the Valley. The baby was given Elaine as a second name in honor of her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Scarlett.

Gargiulos Have Son, Promotion

Mrs. William R. Gargiulo received word this week that her older son, Bill, has been made regional manager of the Philippine Islands area for Mead, Johnson Co. Ltd., pharmaceutical supplies organization. He has been associated with the firm's international division in Manila for several years.

On October 30, Bill and his wife, June, became parents for the second time when their son, William Randolph Gargiulo III, was born. He is to be called Randy.

Unfortunately, Bill's promotion means that he will not be able to come home as expected during 1960. He and June are anticipating a Carmel visit in 1961, however, when they will bring Randy and their daughter, Jill, here for a visit with Mrs. Gargiulo and Dr. Ernest K. Stratton, the children's maternal grandfather.

Mrs. Gargiulo, who visited Bill, June and Jill in Manila last Christmas time, will spend the Christmas holidays this year in Phoenix, Arizona, with her younger son, Dick, and his wife. Dick is attending the American Institute of Foreign Trade this year.

Cullumbines Visit Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cullumbine of Philadelphia, the latter is former Carmel resident Mrs. Mary Sullivan, visited Carmel last week and are now in San Francisco. They will return tomorrow for a weekend stay before leaving for Southern California.

Senator and Mrs. Fred S. Farr and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton are inviting Mrs. Cullumbine's Carmel friends to the Farr home to meet her husband tomorrow evening.

John Sullivan, Mrs. Cullumbine's son, who attended Carmel schools when she lived here, is now a student at Taft School in Connecticut.

Toys Welcome First Son

James Bastow Toy, born on November 3 in the Peninsula Community Hospital, is the first son of Mr. and Mrs. James Toy. His birth weight was eight pounds, 13 ounces. Elizabeth, 13 years old, and Margaret, nine, are his sisters.

Expected here from Detroit for a visit at Christmas time are both of James' grandmothers, Mrs. Nettie I. Bastow and Mrs. Lorol E. Toy.

The Toys came to live here from Grosse Pointe, Michigan, a little over a year ago. Mr. Toy is a partner in the ownership of two candy stores in Monterey.

WAC International Health Talk

Dr. Jessie Bierman, professor of maternal and child health, School of Public Health, University of California, will speak on International Health and a World in Ferment, tomorrow evening, in the Carmel High School Cafeteria.

Dr. Bierman will also talk about population explosion which is of great concern to the public today. She has served as chief of the maternal and child health section of the UN World Health Organization in Geneva during 1956 and 1957, has travelled widely, and contributed much to the literature in her field.

Fletcher Dutton of Pebble Beach, president of the World Affairs Council, will introduce the speaker to this group. This meeting is open only to members.

Stuart Mitchell At Meetings

On Tuesday, Superintendent of Schools Stuart Mitchell and Assistant Superintendent Wayne Greenfield were in Fowler at a meeting of public school business officers. The group discussed new legislation relating to the civic center tax. A tax of five cents per hundred dollar evaluation formerly permissible in school districts for recreation purposes, has been increased to 10 cents.

Yesterday Mr. Mitchell presided for the last time at a meeting of the coast counties division of California Association of School Administrators in the Italian Villa in Salinas. Dr. J. Frederic Ching, Salinas Superintendent of Schools, spoke on legislation. Succeeding Mr. Mitchell as president of this group for the coming year will be Eldon Covell, Monterey school superintendent.

Poets Plan Christmas Party

The regular monthly meeting of the Arena Blanca Chapter of the Federation of Chaparral Poets was held at the Church of the Wayfarer on November 11, with President Olivia Young presiding.

New members welcomed to the Chapter were: Nancy A. Provasco, Bernice Minarik and Dr. Gordon R. Parker. Results of the bi-monthly contest were announced by Mrs. Young with first place going to Arthur Wild; second place to Blanche Moke, both of Carmel, and third place to Dagny Banker of Pacific Grove.

Eleanor Catron gave the program for the evening. Her subject was A Challenge to the Poetry Reader. Plans for the Christmas party to be held on December 9 concluded the evening. Mary Fitch Greenwood and Jerry Wild were hostesses assisted by Hascal Stewart, hospitality chairman.

O.E.S. Installation Next Week

Carmel Chapter No. 581, Order of The Eastern Star, honored Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, Worthy Matron, and Mr. William Giles, Worthy Patron, together with their corps of officers on Farewell Night, November 11. Carmel Chapter was in turn honored by visiting members and officers from all the surrounding chapters. Among the visitors were Mrs. Grace Gould and Mrs. James Moody, Deputy Grand Matrons of the forty-fourth and forty-fifth districts. All chapters of these districts were represented by their matrons and patrons.

Mrs. Paul McKinstry was general chairman and Mrs. Harold Lewis is chairman of the refreshment committee.

On November 28 installation of officers for the ensuing year will be held in the Carmel chapter. Mrs. Burleigh Zak will be installed as Worthy Matron with Mr. Norman Fontes as Worthy Patron.

Elizabeth Niles Wills Property To Carmel Town House

will in June of the same year, Wesley Kergan her attorney. Recently the latter has turned some of his law practice over to the City Attorney John Morse, who was handling Miss Niles' affairs at the time of her death.

Attorney Gene Harrah has been retained by a niece of Miss Niles, Mrs. Duane J. Folz (Jane) of New York City to represent her interests. She is the only surviving blood relative.

Miss Niles was born on January 30, 1886, in Salt Lake City where her father, an Army surgeon, had retired. She attended schools in Salt Lake City, then entered Wellesley College in Massachusetts where she obtained a bachelor's degree, with English and philosophy as her major fields of study.

Miss Niles first became interested in library work during the years she lived in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Andrew Rowan, wife of the commanding officer of nearby Fort Douglas, organized a reading room for the blind in Salt Lake City Public Library. Miss Niles assisted in this work and later was asked to become a member of the Salt Lake City Library staff. She remained at this work until her father died, then with her mother, the late Mrs. A. Niles, moved to Southern California.

For the next several years Miss Niles worked on the research staff of a movie studio. She read novels, visualized the situations in the stories, searched out background material, such as costumes and history of the period, and finally wrote a short sketch of the story with a list of references. This material was used when the story of the novel was filmed.

Illness forced Miss Niles to leave this work. She and her mother moved to Carmel and built a house at the corner of Torres Street and Eighth Avenue, in which Miss Niles still lived at the time of her death.

In Carmel, Miss Niles found the librarian at the Harrison Memorial Library was having difficulty with filing. Miss Niles offered to do the library filing and eventually became a permanent member of the library staff.

The board of directors of the Harrison Memorial Library honored Miss Niles with a reception, to which the entire community was invited, when she retired in 1955.

Since that time Miss Niles has been actively interested in the Booklovers Club of the Carmel Foundation and the local Great Books program. She was also a member of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula.

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, will officiate at funeral services for Miss Niles at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel in Monterey. Inurnment will follow in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove.

the association. It has since been discovered that a quorum of members eligible to vote was not present at the meeting. Therefore tomorrow's special meeting was called.

Plans for the annual Christmas party which the Association gives for members of the Highlands Fire Department will be discussed. Uproar following last week's election prohibited consideration of the Christmas party.

"Pop" Off To Debutante Ball

Cecil Moore "Pop" Smith will abandon his daily golf games on Wednesday and fly to Los Angeles to spend Thanksgiving with his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ludwig Kaftan. He will remain in Southern California over the week-end and on Saturday evening attend the Coronet Debutante Ball in the International Room of the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

having command of their technical requirements but also with a joy and a verve which came across the footlights and caught up the audience in enthralled enjoyment. It was evident that the entire group had studied ballet for in their Amanecer en Malaga, Los Siete Luceros and Tema y Variaciones there were many ballet steps and combinations to give color and interest to the pattern of the dances. A spirit of youth and lithe strength permeated the entire company, and their stance and body control, as well as their technique and showmanship, was as refreshingly infectious as a glass of sparkling water.

The costumes were beautiful and glowing with color, depicting the feeling and theme of each number. The two guitarists and the singer provided an on-stage musical background with the pianist, Marina Alonso off-stage and kept the entire program in the realm of Spain.

This program, to this reviewer, brought home most forcibly the need of an auditorium on this Peninsula with a stage large enough for a group of fine artists to be able to perform with freedom and scope as well as the adequate and necessary aid of proper lighting and scenic effect. It is not fair to ask fine artists to perform in an auditorium that hampers their ability and creates a physical constriction which they are unable to overcome and consequently impinges on the artistry of their performance.

Director Bailey announced that an outstanding cast of thirteen Peninsula actors has been assembled for the production.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The supreme power of God will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" is the Golden Text from Psalms (66:8, 9): "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy includes this statement of the supremacy of God, Soul: "God is infinite, the only Life, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man" (330:11-12).

From the King James Version of the Bible, the following will be read: "Bles the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty" (Psalms 104:1).

Planners Set Dec. 2 Rezoning Hearings

could be expected if the present corporation yard were sold to help finance the Torres Street lots. Mr. Nieto pointed out that two steep lots across Mission Street from the yard sold for $57,000. The corporation yard property was level and more desirable, he indicated. He also pointed out that if the corporation yard were sold for commercial purposes, it would bring tax revenue to the city. The Torres Street location in C-2 district was not only more in accord with Carmel's master plan but was the only land in the C-2 zone available for a yard at present.

"It is both practical and economic," he added.

Commissioner Florence Josselyn worried about losing the opportunity to purchase the White lots.

Discussion ended with Mr. Blanks requesting further committee study on the proposed purchase of the White lots and their use for a corporation yard. Chairman Willox appointed Commissioners Gottfried, MacGregor and Blanks to this committee. They will report their findings to the whole commission on December 2.

Also considered by commissioners was a change in the civic center plans proposed by Building Inspector Floyd Adams.

The city government buildings, library extension, and fire house, in the plans, are situated on the north end of the site in a two-story building, one story above ground level facing Third Avenue.

Mr. Adams suggested excavating a second basement under this proposed building and extending it along the Junipero frontage of the land to the south end of the property below ground level. The fire house would be placed at the extreme southern part of this basement, and open on Junipero Street off an apron large enough to maneuver fire department equipment. All street department above ground storage and shop buildings would be eliminated by street department housing in the basement, back of the fire house area and opening towards Torres Street.

Above the basement would be ground level landscaped parking lots as now proposed in the Nieto plans.

A civilian defense "bomb shelter" headquarters could be provided in the second basement at the corner of Junipero and Third Streets. The two concrete ceilings above the basement would meet requirements for such a shelter, Mr. Willox pointed out.

Mayor Chitwood urged commissioners to make their feelings known about the purchase of the White lots for a corporation yard, as soon as possible. He said that the present yard is in C-1 zone where such uses are not permitted. Custom and precedent have allowed the city to keep the yard where it is so far. Development in the area indicates that soon adjacent property owners will not condone the city corporation yard at Mission and Third, Mr. Chitwood warned. Would the planning commission prefer to have the yard on C-2 property such as the White lots, the mayor asked.

Commissioner Blanks replied by stating there should be no doubt in the minds of councilmen about the commission's favoring a C-2 corporation yard location, although that section of the master plan stating that the yard should be in C-2 zone was at present tabled.

Further commission opinions will be given at their December 2 meeting after committee study.

P.T.A. "College Night"

Students and parents are urged to attend the College Night meeting of the High School P.T.A. unit this evening in the high school cafeteria at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Thomas Barrows, past president of the American Council of Education and former president of Lawrence College in Appleton, Wisconsin, now director of guidance at Robert Louis Stevenson School and a professional counselor on college entrance requirements and the selection of a particular college for individual students, will be the speaker.

Last year Dr. Barrows discussed the choice of a college best suited to a student's needs at a High School P.T.A. meeting. So great was the interest and response aroused by his talk that Dr. Barrows has been asked to repeat it this evening.

High School Principal Warren Edwards will give information on sources of scholarship aid for college-bound students.

Dr. Barrows and Mr. Edwards will answer questions from the floor at the end of the program. Refreshments will be served.

Letter To The Editor . . .

bushes to do their smoking, and thus spared the grown-ups' feelings.

If I thought prohibiting smoking in the Youth Center would mean the end of smoking, I would be for prohibiting like everything, but I'm pretty sure the result would be to drive the kids out of the center for a quick smoke out of doors. Would you like it any better to see them loitering on the street around the center, with their cigarettes glowing like fireflies in the night?

And having prohibited smoking in the center so that the spectacle of some smoking will not influence others to smoke, where do we go from there? Do we cart off their TV set so they won't be bombarded every fifteen minutes with persuasive lectures about how a thinking man smokes this brand, an outdoors man smokes that, and the jazz set smokes yet another? Would you continue on to the logical conclusion and junk your own TV set?

But cheer up. This generation is brighter than ours. There are a lot of the Youth Center members who do not think it's smart to smoke.

Visitors From Hollywood

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Acton of North Hollywood visited Carmel this week on their way to San Francisco. The Actons come here frequently and especially enjoy local little theater productions.
